Announcing the GKEN/URAC Annual International Health Promotion Awards Program

The Global Knowledge Exchange Network on Health Care (GKEN) and URAC (www.urac.org) have partnered to develop the Annual International Health Promotion Awards Program (AIHPA) which will recognize model community and workplace health promotion practices and programs across the globe.

The inaugural AIHPA conference and awards program are scheduled for December 6-7, 2010, at the Hotel Columbus and the Visconti Palace Hotel in Rome, Italy. Additional information, including conference registration and award nomination forms, is available at <http://www.aihpa.org/>. The deadline for nominations is September 3, 2010.
